

Our renovation of this historically significant wood-framed house included a 10,000 sf addition at the rear, to create office space for the Law School's Legal Aid Bureau and other research programs.

Our firm's expertise with zoning, accessibility, historic and other regulatory issues allowed the project to proceed on a fast-track design and construction schedule. Located in a dense residential neighborhood, the addition met

continued on next page

Main stair at third floor

Stair at first floor looking to addition complex Cambridge zoning regulations, and received approval by the Cambridge Historical Commission.

In addition to restoring the original building, our design included suites for five Law School groups, an accessible entry, new elevator and complete replacement of MEP systems.

Completed June 2006.

Videoconference room for Berkman Center

Conference room and lounge for Petrie-Flom Center

