

Herpetology Seminar Room, Harvard Museum of Comparative Zoology

This project transformed an underutilized basement space into a multi-functional teaching room for the Department of Organismic and Evolutionary Biology.

Flexible seating and tables allow for instruction by lectures, seminars or lab use. Microscopes and sinks facilitate examination of specimens. Compact shelving houses the Herpetology collection library.

Completed Summer 2008.

